Dear Mr. McLeod:

Your favor of May 14th at hand notifying me of my appointment as executor of my mother's estate. On April 25th I sent you all of the bank books except two, which I have here, and gave you the amount in these banks as well as the amount in the joint checking account, also the list of all of her stock holdings. What more things do you want for the inventory? You told me when I saw you last her personal effects and what furniture she had left not to bother with. Mrs. Wood had no bonds or other negotiable securities at the time of her death.

I am planning to be in Brockton on May 24th and will probably be there the 25th, 27th and 28th. In the meantime if you can let me know what further things I can do for you or bring up to you, let me know before the 23rd.

Very truly yours,

HW:JG
